The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold air. It felt like I had been wrapped in a blanket of ice. The wind was howling, and the snow was falling fast. I shivered as I walked towards the house. The door was open, and I saw the familiar faces of my family. They were all looking at me with concern. I told them what had happened, and they hugged me tightly.
The night was long, but I was safe.
